

"PEERLESS" PNEUMATIC Piano Players Play Pianos PERFECTLY.

The "Peerless" can be BUILT INTO any make of piano without disfiguring the instrument or in the least interfering with the playing of same by hand in the usual manner.

It plays over a thousand selections in correct time and with perfect expression. The pedals and time-stop are controlled automatically by the roll of music. No other "self-player" on the market has this remarkable and pleasing feature. We have these and other unique features fully patented in every civilized country under the sun. It can be operated by electrical, water weight, gas or foot power.

THE "PEERLESS PIANO PLAYER" IS THE LATEST AND MOST PERFECT INVENTION OF ITS KIND ON THE MARKET. IT DOES NOT GET OUT OF ORDER LIKE OTHERS.

We supply new music at a trifle more than the cost of ordinary sheet music. Also, we will shortly inaugurate a "circulating library of music" the cost of which will be reasonable.

Weddings and Music Events of the Coming Week--St. Louisans at Hot Springs--Programme of the Meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Milwaukee in June.

April's last week will be ushered in tomorrow by two weddings of importance--that of Miss Elmerino to Doctor Gundlach and Miss Mabel Folley to Edward Simmons. The annual May morning concert of the Morning Choral will be an event of Tuesday. This concert is being pleasantly anticipated by the patrons of the club who are rejoicing that the movement has seen fit to resume the morning concert idea, instead of making night events out of their programmes. The Ruskin Club will have its closing musical also this week, on Wednesday, at the house of the club president, Mrs. A. Deane Cooper. A special programme has been prepared with novelty in the shape of Shadley's poem "Helga," which has been given a music setting.

The coming month of May will be one of migration for those St. Louisans who are going abroad or homecoming for California and Florida tourists. Indeed, many of the latter have been arriving for the last ten days, as no small number of them anticipate a trip across the pond this summer and wardrobe must be prepared. Miss Ella Beers, who is just back from Paris and a winter spent on the Riviera, reports the French capital in a greatly disturbed state, with small chance of the English being in shape for visitors for some weeks.

The British season was a social failure according to Miss Beers. The English, who ordinarily take the liveliest interest in the giving of functions at the many resorts in Southern France, were this season too much occupied in the making of clothing for sailing in South Africa and in preparing for summer houses, so that little time with eight else than charity concerts, the funds to be used for these purposes. The weather was unusual, and the cold extreme at times. Snow fell in Nice in March, greatly to the astonishment of the inhabitants.
